Sen. Carson's Bill Would Place Profit Of $10 Million Yearly In Road Bureau

The state liquor commission would go into the wholesale liquor business under a bill submitted Friday to the state legislature.

'Badman Bill' Search Still Continuing

Cook 'Seen' From Coast To Nebraska

SCOTTSDUFF, Neb.—(AP)—The search for a mysterious man in a muddy gray Plymouth car spread into extreme western Nebraska and eastern Wyoming Friday night.

Whether the man is the notorious badman, Bill Cook, charged with murder and kidnapping in the disappearance of a family of five, still remained in doubt.

A man in a late model car was reported seen at Mitchell, Neb., Friday morning at Torrington and Guernsey, Wyo., later the forenoon and near noon Thursday in Scottsbluff. The car seen near Mitchell, which was believed to be the same one that passed through Torrington, carried an Oklahoma license plate when seen at Torrington. The car seen in Scottsbluff carried a Colorado license plate.

Whether this was the same car whose driver exchanged shots with Deputy Sheriff Fran Dolan of McCook Thursday, wounding him slightly and who later was believed to have purchased gasoline at Wauweta, also was in doubt. The car reported by Dolan carried a Phelps county, Nebraska license.

At the same time searches were being conducted in southeastern South Dakota and northeastern Iowa, and near Worthington, Minn.

In Omaha, the state safety patrol said there had been no report of the wanted car on the police radio network since it was reported in Wauweta Thursday night.

However, in Guernsey, Wyo., Friday a man in a late model gray Plymouth car asked directions in a different direction than directed when he left. The waitress reported it.

Car With Bullet Holes

In Mitchell, Neb., Loren Shelby reported seeing a car which appeared to have a shattered rear and side glass and bullet holes in the rear. He said he and the driver stared at each other as he was about to pass, and then the driver sped on. After seeing a newspaper picture he said he was sure the driver was Cook.

In Scottsbluff Thursday Mrs. Lloyd Green said a man ordered her husband's restaurant, ordered a drink from her, paid for it with a $10 bill and then went out without drinking it.

When shown a newspaper picture of Cook later, she said "it all matched." She described the man as between 22 and 23 years old, five feet six inches tall, with wavy brown hair, blue eyes and a "pretty" complexion. He was wearing a brown topcoat.

'Seen' In Los Angeles

Meanwhile, in Glendale, Calif., Mrs. Bertha A. Bledsoe, who said she was a neighbor of Cook in Kansas City, Mo., told police she saw Cook at a Los Angeles Pacific Electric railway station Thursday. According to Mrs. Bledsoe, a man of about 20 joined Cook, then walked over and asked Mrs. Bledsoe if she were from Missouri.

After replying yes, Mrs. Bledsoe said the friend of Cook's said, "Cooky thought he recognized you."

Roadblocks are still being maintained in the El Centro, Calif., region and officers are searching the Laguna Salada dry lake area 25 miles southwest of Mexicali, Mexican border city.

Tools Stolen—M. W. Holman, 2350 Scott, told police late Friday that a miter box, worth $45 and with his name carved on it, was stolen from 4235 B Friday morning. Holman, a carpenter, is building a house at the location.

Sen. Hugh Carson of Valley, sponsor of the bill, said the proposal would net the state between $5 and $6 million dollars a year in revenue.

The money would go to the state highway department.

Under the proposal, the liquor commission would be the sole wholesale distributor of alcoholic liquors, except beer.

Break 'Monopoly.'

The commission could purchase liquors from "such sources as it deems desirable" and sell the liquors to retailers in the state.

Sen. Carson said the bill also was designed to "break-up a very vicious and obnoxious wholesale liquor monopoly in Omaha."

There are "eight people there" who have a monopoly in the state he said, adding that a "bottle of liquor cannot be bought in Nebraska without clearing it through Omaha."

Wyoming Pattern.

"Retailers in the state are merely 'clerks' for the wholesaler in Omaha," the senator said.

He said the bill was patterned after a similar set-up in Wyoming.

The eight "monopolists" divide $8 million dollars a year between themselves, Carson said.

$100 Million Revenue.

Coupled with federal matching funds, the senator estimated that total revenue over the next 10 years would be about $100 million.

The bill would bring in as much or more money as the two highway revenue measures defeated by the voters in the last election. The two measures were the one-cent gas tax hike and the vehicle registration boost.

Asked if the bill would solve the state's highway problem, Carson said:

"It will solve the road problem if the revenue bills would have solved it."

First Trust To Mark 40th Anniversary

Officials of The First Trust company announced Friday at the annual stockholders meeting and election that the company plans a special observance of its fortieth anniversary, June 29, 1951.

Of the 15 company officers, ten have a total of 275 years service with the company, President Samuel Waugh announced.

Officers re-elected at the meeting are:

George W. Holmes, chairman of the board; Samuel C. Waugh, president; Merle C. Rathbun, vice president; Bennett S. Martin, vice president; John C. Whitten, vice president; Clarence F. Hinde, treasurer; Otto F. Schieblitz, vice president; Matthias G. Voiz, vice president insurance dept.; Evert W. Hunt, vice president investment dept.; Blanchard A. Anderson, vice president real estate dept.; Edward N. Thompson, secretary; Eugene W. Pester, asst. secretary and trust officer.

Neil W. Hall, asst. secretary and manager mortgage and farm dept.; Clarence Nelson, est. manager insurance dept.; C. J. Jorgensen, director of farm management.

Re-elected to the board of directors were:

George W. Holmes, Merle C. Rathbun, chairman; Ernest L. Smith, R. E. Campbell, James Stuart, Arthur A. Dehon, Samuel C. Waugh, Bennett S. Martin.

Membership Of Christ Lutheran Doubles 1950

Christ Lutheran church has doubled its membership since the first of 1950, it was learned at the monthly meeting Friday night at the church.

Present membership of the church is now 118 members. The group also decided to send a representative to the Lutheran children's home findings society meeting in Omaha. The society works in cooperation with the Lutheran children's home at Fremont.

Bids on the meat laboratory and dairy production laboratory were approved Saturday by the university's board of regents, subject to the legislature's approval.

Besides university officials, several livestock and dairy men spoke on behalf of the university's three buildings.

They included:

Parr Young, Nebraska Live-stock Breeders association; Melvin Todd, Union Corn Belt Live-stock Breeders association; H. E. Van Amburgh, Omaha Union Stock Yards company; Halsey Noyes, Veterinarian; John Rhodes, Beatrice; Paul Swanson, Stormburg; Lowell Barnes, Lexington.

4. Rigid authority for the agriculture department to "prevent excessive speculation in farm products."

5. An extended and strengthened rent control law because the present act is "obsolete."

6. Additional shifts and longer hours in key defense industries. Revision of industry hiring standards "to provide more jobs. 'Careful' distribution and use of skilled labor.

7. Renewal of government priorities and allocations powers to assure that defense requirements are met on schedule.

8. Production of all military supplies in keeping with the production capacity goals of 50,000 planes and 35,000 tanks a year.

Mr. Truman said the total productive strength of the nation's economy must be increased "at least 25 per cent" in the next five years.

Plane Crash Kills 12

DURBAN, South Africa.—(AP)—The pilot and 11 passengers were killed Friday when a transport plane crashed at Ixopo, about 70 miles southwest of Durban. One of the victims was a child.

DR. EMMA H. LEIGH

Dr. Leigh, 92, Dies; Rites To Be Monday

Dr. Emma H. Leigh, 92, a practicing osteopath in University Place, died Friday morning at her home at 4706 St. Paul, until a recent illness.

Dr. Leigh actively pursued her profession, treating between five and ten and sometimes as high as 18 patients a day at her office in her home at 4706 St. Paul, until a recent illness.

Born March 15, 1858 at Kirksville, Mo., Dr. Leigh came to Lincoln in 1901 and had made her home here since that time.

She was a graduate from Kirksville high school and Missouri state normal school. Before beginning her study at the Kirksville osteopathic college, Dr. Leigh taught art and music at the Missouri normal school for 15 years.

She was an honorary life member of the American Osteopathic association and was a member of the First Methodist church.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Monday at Ropers chapel, Rev. Clyde F. Stark officiating. Maryalice Macy will be at the organ. Burial will be in Wyuka.

Dr. Leigh is survived by a daughter, Miss Miriam Leigh at home; a sister, Mrs. Jeanette Downs, Sedalia, Mo.; two nieces, and two nephews.

Nurses Committee To Recruit Students

OMAHA.—(AP)—A committee to aid the Nebraska Nurses association in a program to recruit student nurses was named by the board of the Nebraska Student Nurse association.

Those named were Phyllis Morgan of University hospital, Omaha, and Howard Runkel, Union college, Lincoln. The board urged that junior as well as senior high schools be contacted in explaining the advantages of a nursing career.

The board named Lou Hentges of St. Elizabeth's hospital, Lincoln, and Ardes Wehenkel of St. Francis hospital, Grand Island, to the nursing resources committee for civil and military defense.

The two year old association announced that it now has close to 1,000 members.

versity desired to continue the purchase these lots when they came up for sale to forestall speculation.

Pleas for allowing construction of the three university buildings were based mainly on the argument they would contribute to the nation's war effort.

Another argument used was that the buildings represent unfilled "back-orders."

Approves Principle.

Mrs. Mary Prince, board of control vice chairman, approved the underlying principle of the proposal.

She said the amendment on building started before Jan. 1, 1951, would permit the completion of nine projects the board has presently under construction.

Bids on the meat laboratory and dairy production laboratory were approved Saturday by the university's board of regents, subject to the legislature's approval.

Unicam Looks Good

Short Session Now Possible As Senate Buckles To Work

By ARCH DONOVAN Star Staff Writer

On the theory that you can judge a workman by his work, it is now possible to formulate opinions on the membership of the sixty-second session of the Nebraska legislature.

The opening week was largely devoted to organization and the fanfare that goes with installation of a new state administration. The past week has been the first down to earth work session.

Horse-play, not uncommon in legislative bodies, is missing so far this session. Senators are going about their work in serious fashion. While in session every member can be seen in his seat unless excused.

While sessions at present do not open until 10 a.m., the senators start arriving at 8 o'clock. With no office space for them available, they go to their desks where they can be observed busily studying bills previously introduced or preparing measures they plan introducing.

Few Letters So Far

Fortunately, most members say, they have not as yet been deluged with mail from the "home folks" that requires answers. "Crank" letters from persons who are obsessed over some particular issue are one of the early problems they face. This type they say is seldom constructive, usually "ranting" at length.

What members consider a more serious problem is the letter from people complaining about some local problem or injustice which they want the senator to correct. They are amazed at how poorly citizens are informed on the functions, duties, responsibilities and authority of the legislature.

But good hard work appears to be the desire of most of the members so as to get the necessary legislation passed and adjourn.

Such veteran legislators as Sens. Charles Tyrdik, Earl Lee, Otto Prohs and Speaker Ed Hoyt early set the pace by urging that only necessary legislation be introduced. They found support from those who had served in bi-cameral days as Sens. Otto Kotouc, C. E. Metzger and H. G. Wellensick.

Busy Beaver.

Sen. Harry Pizer, chairman of the committee on committees, has been one of the "busiest beavers" to date. As the right hand man to the speaker, he has been hustling to get bills introduced and referred to committees so that hearings can start early.

Sen. Arthur Carmody, chairman of the budget committee, which will draft the appropriation bill, has set a new tempo for speed of committee action. This bill must be passed before the legislature can end its duties.

The Trenton senator got his committee into action as soon as it was named. He did not wait for the submission of the governor's recommendations on needs, but started his committee studying at once the operation of state agencies and offices to familiarize themselves with operating problems and results being obtained.

The business experience and knowledge obtained from the holding of county offices is making the judgment of new members felt. Such freshmen as Sens. H. K. Diers, Seward; R. H. Kreutz, Giltner; D. J. Cole, Merriman; K. W. Peterson, Sargent; L. M. Shultz, Rogers; Richard Marvel, Hastings; and Otto Leibers, Lincoln, get many calls for advice.

Fewer Bills

Introduction of bills is running more than 50 behind the number introduced at this time in the last session when 546 were finally introduced and the session required 100 days. Several now express the hope that this session will see considerable fewer bills.

After two weeks many observers are heard to express the opinion that the membership this session ranks above average in ability, sincerity, seriousness and sound judgment.

When 11 bills were reported out to general file Thursday by committees, the legislature immediately considered them and advanced them to enrollment and review for review.

Such examples of prompt and efficient action augers well for the session which many express the hope may be one of the shortest on record.

Jaycee Service Award To Be Made Jan. 19

Lincoln Jaycees will give a distinguished service award to a young Lincoln man in connection with their annual Jaycee week Jan. 14 to 21.

The award, for community service in the past year, will be presented at a Founders' Day banquet Jan. 19. It will mark the 25th year of Jaycee work in Lincoln.

Trial Is Over For Ilse Koch

... Verdict Due Monday

AUGSBURG, Germany.—(AP)—The six-week trial of Ilse Koch for concentration camp atrocities ended Friday with the "red witch of Buchenwald" refusing to utter a word in her own defense.

The German court's verdict will be handed down Monday.

When Presiding Judge Georg Magnot invited Mrs. Koch to make her own plea to the court, she sat mute, her face immobile.

Then, when the court session ended, Mrs. Koch, who admitted to "played her little comedy" of collapsing several times during her trial, refused to walk. She was carried from the courtroom for the third time in three days.

Prosecutor Hans Ilkow demanded life imprisonment for the plump, red-haired widow of a former commander of Buchenwald concentration camp. The death penalty was abolished in Germany in 1949.

Contracts For 2 Key Roads Let

Four-Lane Highway, Project Near Alma Construction Set Up

Contracts totalling $1,684,477 for a four-lane highway between Scottsbluff and Gering in addition to a bridge and highway across the Harlan county reservoir were awarded Friday by the state highway department.

The Harlan county project was subject of considerable debate, with residents of Orleans and Republican City claiming the road would be a waste of money.

Alma residents asserted it was necessary to the life of their city.

The Northwest Engineering Co. of Rapid City, S. D., was given the contract for grading, paving, culvert and sewer work for the four-lane highway. The amount of this contract is $522,644.09.

One Lincoln Company

The contract for bridge and protection work was awarded to the Central State Bridge Co. of Lincoln for $179,822.18.

Bridge work is to start April 16 and is to be completed within 100 working days. The grading and paving work is to start May 14 with a time limit of 140 working days.

Some existing paving and a bridge over the North Platte river will form part of the new highway.

The Missouri Valley Construction Co. of Omaha and the Bushman Construction Co. of St. Joseph, Mo., were awarded the Harlan county contracts of $1,102,745.74 and $581,732.55 respectively.

The two companies will build five miles of road directly south of Alma and a short section in the Prairie Dog creek area.

Will Connect Sections

Two contracts were also let for construction of a highway connecting these two sections and for the building of a stretch of highway from Prairie Dog creek to the Kansas line.

Recipients of these contracts were the Mosbarger and Ems Construction Co., of Arapahoe, $17,070.33, and the Benzing Construction Co. of McCook, $10,715.15.

Service Men To Get Full 'Y' Privileges

Service men stationed in Nebraska will enjoy "full membership" privileges in Husker state Y.M.C.A.s, it was decided here Friday at the winter district meeting of "Y" workers.

The group voted to establish a uniform soldiers' service program, making Y.M.C.A. facilities available to men on military duty.

Staff members also heard a discussion by John Burkhardt, New York, national council Y.M.C.A. staff, on the ways to observe the North American Y.M.C.A. centennial and the mediums to employ.

Y.M.C.A. representatives from nearly every city in Nebraska were present at the meeting.

Royal Thomas, general secretary of the Hasting Y.M., was in charge of the devotions, while John Moore, Norfolk, presided. James Eggleston, area executive for the Y.M. west central area, also reported briefly to the group.

Four Los Angeles Industries Are Studying Nebraska

Nebraska has been mentioned as a very possible new plant site for four Los Angeles area manufacturers.

In making the statement, C. V. Price, chief of the state Resources Division, said Nebraska manufacturers will have an opportunity to obtain sub-contracts.

Two of the west coast firms are engaged in electronics, one is an aircraft manufacturer and one makes general machine parts.

"In almost every instance," said Price, "very definite interest was evidenced in Nebraska as a source for this work."

The state's facilities for these types of industry are now under study.

Price recently spent 10 days on the coast.

Grain Cars May Begin Moving West In Near Future

Relief for Nebraska grain shippers in the form of more railway cars should be forthcoming in another week, according to Richard H. Larson, chairman of the Nebraska railway commission.

Larson returned Friday from an eastern trip, during which he visited Chicago and Washington, D. C., officials in an attempt to start grain cars moving westward to meet unfilled Nebraska orders.

The state official said eastern demand for cars is "slacking off," and the interstate commerce commission had promised to issue orders for westward car movements if relief isn't immediately forthcoming.

Besides demands elsewhere, the western car shortage is attributed to crippling snow storms, strikes, and the holiday let down.

BNA Continues Fight

The increase (as well as the gas-tax boost) voted by the 1949 legislature. Both were repealed by the referendum.

The BNA apparently will let that sleeping dog lie.

Registration Fees Same

The recommendation as to registration fees was that they "remain in the amount presently provided for in the statutes, which are $3 and $5 on autos with commercial truck rates up to $400 for a 20-ton truck."

The association's suggestion on this money is that it be turned entirely over to the county, with the proposal that:

"Some part of the registration fees upon all vehicles licensed in the cities and villages be distributed to the cities and villages for streets as may be agreed upon between the counties, the cities and the legislature, with all of the registration fees in the rural areas going to rural roads."

Pointing out that "many people in the state" are critical of the highway department and/or its organization, the committee urged the legislature to meet this problem promptly.

"The committee believes that the failure of the 1949 road program at the general election was, at least in part, due to public feeling and sentiment in respect to this problem."

However, the committee found that "the management and efficiency in the highway department was comparable to the management and efficiency in agriculture, business, industry and government generally in Nebraska."

Investigate Burglary

Lincoln police are investigating a pre-dawn burglary and an attempted break-in.

Brothers took a hammer from a building at the city dump after they gained entry by twisting a lock from a door. Then they used the hammer to smash their way into a second building, where the hammer was found by police. Two batteries, worth about $25, were taken from the second building, city employees said.

A thirsty burglar broke out a window in the rear of the Strackbein Tavern at 2021 O Friday morning. He reached inside and opened a paper beer case, but when the prowler found nothing but empties in the box, he smashed it to the floor in disgust. Nothing else in the building was disturbed.

★ ★ SECRETS OF CHARM ★ ★

by JOHN ROBERT POWERS

"The smarties in my class," writes an unhappy teenager, "tease me so about my big stick-out ears that I've gotten to the point where I wear my hair down over them all of the time. With all the girls wearing swept back hair-dos, I feel awfully out of step. Isn't there something else I can do?"

Yes, there is. And it should ease your self-consciousness a bit to know that your problem isn't unusual—it's one that many women have.

However, if you'll just follow these simple instructions, you'll find your ears becoming prettier by the minute:

Six Solutions.

1. Instead of wearing your hair down over your entire ear in an out-of-date style, arrange it in a soft vertical wave to cover only the top half of the ear.

2. You can tape your ears back! More professional beauties do just that than you might dream. Here's how: Get a roll of double-faced transparent or flesh-colored adhesive tape. Cut a very small piece to conform to the curve of the upper shell of your ear. Place it along the underside of your ear and press your ear flat to your scalp until the tape grabs hold. Then arrange your hair to dip up and around this artifice, but leave the entire front surface of the ear exposed.

3. Use earrings to camouflage both the shape and size of your ear. Medium-sized earbobs, small enough to let a margin of lobe show on each side, perform the old optical illusion trick of dividing width, just as buttons down the front of a dress break

Ears that won't lie close to the head get prettier by the minute when treated to these Powers suggestions!

Attention Detractors.

4. A necklace that hangs just below the collarbone also elongates the ear line. Large, stand-up and unusually shaped collars work wonders in attracting attention away from the ear. For formal evening wear, try pasting an out-size ornament (such as a giant gardenia) on your bare shoulder.

5. Wear your rouge high on your cheeks and pretty close to your nose.

Start training your ears to lie flat. Tape them close to your head every night. Tie a chiffon scarf around your head for both protection and beauty.

You'll be delighted at the noticeable improvement in just a short time!

State P.E.O. officers plan convention

Mrs. Dwight S. McVicker, state organizer for the Nebraska P.E.O., was hostess at her home Friday noon to the members of the P.E.O. state board.

Following luncheon, the officers discussed plans for the organization's state convention to be held April 26, 27 and 28 at McCook. Headquarters for the convention will be the Keystone hotel in McCook, and the sessions will be held at the McCook Methodist church.

Lincoln P.E.O. Members Celebrate Founders Day

Members of the Lincoln P.E.O. Round Table and of the sixteen P.E.O. chapters in Lincoln will celebrate the organization's founders day anniversary at a luncheon to be held Saturday noon at Cotner Terrace.

The P.E.O. colors, white and yellow, will predominate in the appointments of the luncheon tables, and presiding at the speakers table will be Mrs. Colton Smith, president of the Lincoln P.E.O. Round Table.

Dr. D. L. Crawford, president of Doane college, will be guest speaker, and the program will include songs by Miss Kathryn Dean of the University of Nebraska school of music.

Among the two hundred ten P.E.O. members expected to attend the luncheon will be the past Supreme treasurer, Miss Rose Owens of the P.E.O. home at Beatrice; past state presidents, Mrs. J. H. Bond of Fairbury, Mrs. Cassius Kennedy of Brownville, and Mrs. John Curtis of Lincoln; the executive officers of the Nebraska P.E.O., Mrs. W. M. Van Brunt, Omaha, president; Mrs. Roy Livingston of Fairbury, second vice president; Mrs. D. S. McVicker, Lincoln, state organizer; Mrs. H. C. Gellatly, Hastings, recording secretary; Mrs. Louis Smith-burger, Stanton, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Arthur Melville, Broken Bow, treasurer.

Also attending will be many P.E.O. members living in Lincoln who are unaffiliated with any local chapter, Mrs. R. A. Stewart, Mrs. George Larson, Mrs. Edith Hilton, Mrs. David E. Bute, Miss Slaine Swan, Mrs. Ed Hoyt, Mrs. R. W. Hill.

Lincoln Outscrap Omaha Tech For 46-39 Triumph

Weyandmen Clamber Into Early Lead To Shock Omaha Visitors

BY WAYNE PANTER
(Star Sports Staff Member)
COACH LYLE WEYAND'S Links won themselves a hell-bent-for-leather ball game Friday night, plastering Omaha Tech, 46-39, in a no-holds-barred and devil-take-the-hindmost cage tussle on the Whittier maples.

It was the Links, going ahead 2-0 on Dean Sloan's one-hander with less than a minute gone and staying ahead all the way, spilling a touted band of basket-eers recognized as worthy of the choicest competition the state could offer.

Their basket eyes sharpened to needle points, the Red and Black standard bearers pounded in fielders from afar when Tech's defense tightened down, slipped them in from under the boards when a wrong shift or a deflected Maroon pass gave them an opening. The Links outscored their visitors from the field, dropping 18 two-pointers through the hoop to the Maroons' 12.

RUNS GAMUT.

Throughout the game a rough type of play predominated as the keyed-up Links and Maroons put on a show that threatened to run the gamut from football to jai-alai. Lincoln aggressiveness under the boards was as much a deciding factor as anything. Sloan and Ted Forke wrenched in shots from beneath the basket when it seemed that Tech was about to overtake the fleeing Links.

Sloan, Forke, Rich Jennings and Joe Carter entered the scoring columns in the first period as the Red and Black zoomed to a 10-3 lead. The leveling Techsters bounced back, however, on a fielder by Don Hansen, after which Bob Mackie joined Center Roger Rosenquist in hitting from the foul line and racked a second of two fielders to make it 12-9, Links, at the quarter.

Mackie dumped in another seven points in the second period as the teams battled on even terms. But the 13 points the shifty guard got in the first half was all but two of his game total. The Links held the upper hand at intermission time, 23-20.

PRESSURE OFF.

Lincoln, forced to concentrate on guarding Rosenquist during the opening periods, found the pressure off as the lanky center acquired his third and fourth fouls and turned their attention to Mackie to go ahead 36-30 as the period ended.

And they were still going away as the game wound up. The Weyandmen might have had an even greater total as they passed several free throws in the game's waning moments.

Between an apparent bad night in hitting the bucket and tight guarding by Link Centers Jennings and Roger Rosenquist was limited to an evening's total of three free throws. Withheld from the game during part of the third and fourth quarters following acquisition of his fourth foul, and committing his fifth infraction shortly after being inserted by Coach Neal Mosser, Rosenquist's loss was a blow to the Maroons, deprived of his aggressive under-basket play.

Forke was the inspiration for the Links all the way. He hit for three points in the first quarter, six in the second, three in the third and four in the fourth to round out a total of 16 points and lead all scorers. Sloan's two fielders in the first quarter were a big item in sending the Links off on the victory trail and his ten points were second high, with Guard Joe Carter coming in with eight.

Making the evening complete were the Lincoln reserves, who hung a 45-32 loss on Tech's seconds.

Peru Cagers Trip Hastings

PERU, Neb. —(AP)— Peru cleared a major hurdle in its drive toward a fourth consecutive Nebraska College conference basketball title tonight by downing Hastings, 69-61.

It was the second conference win against no losses for the Bobcats and Hastings' first defeat in four conference contests.

The defending champions employed an effective stall with 3½ minutes remaining and the score standing at 67-59.

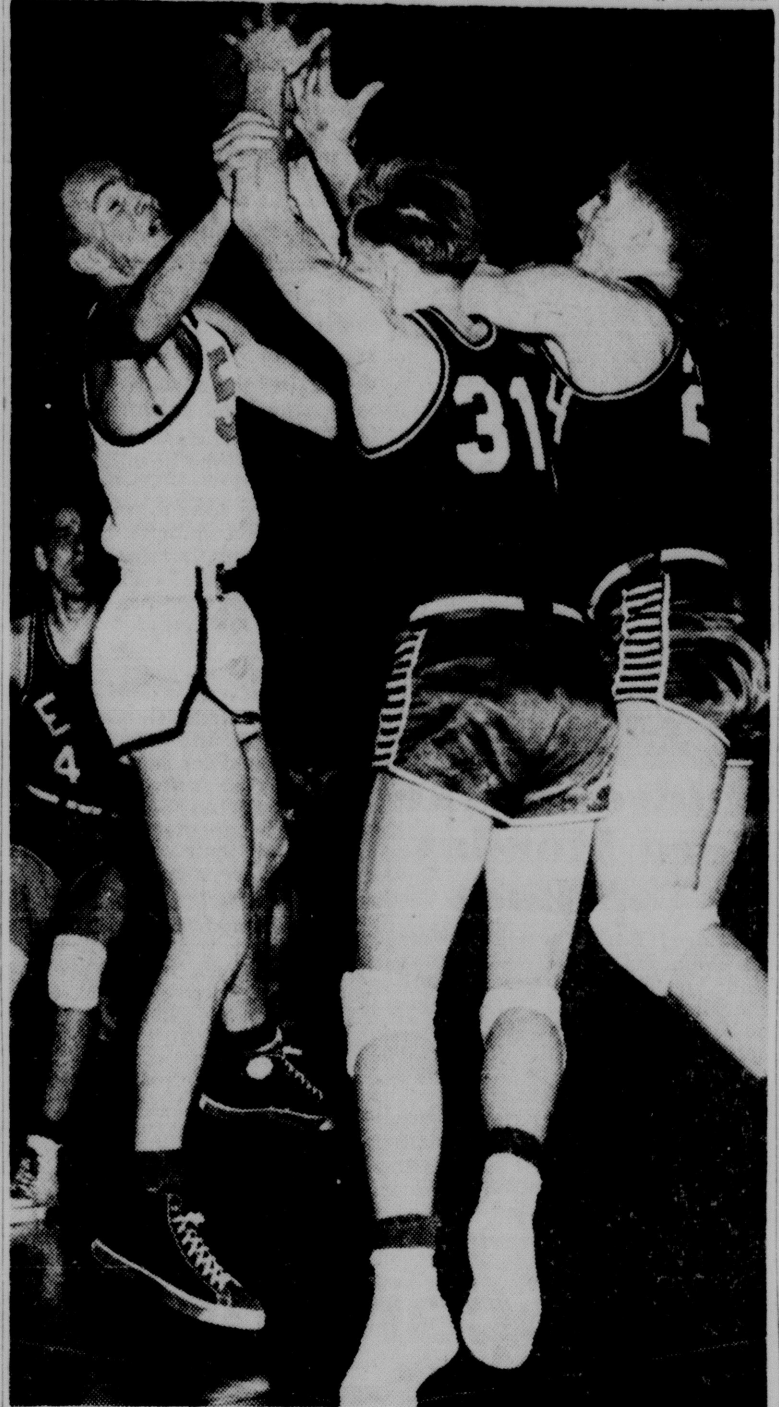

In a close game throughout, Peru held its longest lead, 57-54, with 8½ minutes gone in the second half. At intermission the count was Hastings 34, Peru 31.

Don Borschke, who paced the Bobcats with 24 points, increased Peru's lead early in the second half before Bronco sharpshooters La Verne Schaffer, Harry Moore and Bob Smith cut the margin to 62-59 with five minutes to play.

Near the end of the game Hastings' Chuck Sticksels and Bob Smith and Peru's Bill Johnson and Chuck Smith all out on fouls.

Omaha Meeker followed teammate Borschke in the scoring column with 19 points.

Golden Gloves Tournery Will Have Safety

...Precautions Taken

"Chick" Jacoby, noted referee, who is scheduled to handle the American Legion Golden Gloves tournament next week, believes the ring is very safe.

An accident, such as that which caused the death of Sonny Boy West, who died as the result of injuries received in a bout at New York City, is not likely to occur in the ring at the 4H building.

Chick states, "that the chance for an injury of this sort would be almost nil due to the construction of this ring." The fair ground ring has approximately three inches of padding covering the ring floor, while regulations state the padding of the rings need only to be one inch thick.

Another safety measure taken by the fair ground committee is the construction of a wider apron. The regulation apron is 18 inches wide while the 4H ring is 24. This is added protection for the boxer should he be knocked through the ropes.

Jacoby says that many clubs who only occasionally deal in the promotion of wrestling and boxing matches are very careless in the construction of their rings and he feels that rather than risk an injury, if they can not comply with regulations as prescribed by the State Athletic Commission, they should not attempt such promotions.

For the first two weeks, the Petersen will operate on weekends only. Starting Saturday, Jan. 27, it will run daily through Feb. 11.

No Gopher Job For Wilkinson

MINNEAPOLIS —(AP)—

Coach Bud Wilkinson of the University of Oklahoma has definitely taken himself out of consideration for the football coaching post at the University of Minnesota, a university spokesman said today.

The spokesman said that until recently, Wilkinson had expressed an interest in Bernie Bierman's former job. Friday, however, Wilkinson wired a close friend here, saying he was "definitely and finally" staying at Oklahoma, the university public relations man said.

Seven schools had been placed on a list to come up before the convention for suspension from the NCAA for violation of the sanity code. But in view of Friday night's action, it does not appear likely that these schools will even be mentioned, since there is no longer a code for them to comply with.

Many of the schools said there were not sufficient jobs on the

Northeast Rally Tops Hastings

Rockets Win 49-37 Game; Fredstrom Held To Eight

(Special to The Star)

HASTINGS, Neb.—Lincoln Northeast rallied from a 19-11 first quarter deficit to down a fiery Hastings five, 49-37, Friday night.

Hastings entered the game minus Ronnie Hart, veteran first team member, who checked in his suit before the game. This plus the fact that Conrad Peterson left the game on fouls in the first quarter undoubtedly hurt the Tigers' chance for victory.

NE Trails 19-8

Northeast shot into a quick 3-0 lead in the early minutes, but Hastings came back to snatch a 4-3 edge which they stretched to a sensational 19-8 lead at the quarter. This looked like too big a lead to overcome, but the Rockets kept pecking away in the second quarter.

Arvid Barney cashed a free throw and a field goal to start the Rocket rally going and they sped to a 23-22 half-time lead as Hastings lost their basket eyes and scored only three points in the second quarter.

The third quarter was nip and tuck as Dick Grell kept Northeast in the lead with his timely shooting. Veryl Borden, besides holding Paul Fredstrom to three field goals, paced the Tiger third quarter attack to pull the Tigers into a 32-30 deficit at the end of the period.

Tigers Falter

After narrowing the gap at the third quarter the Tigers ran out of gas and Northeast shot ahead to break the ball game wide open and snatch apparent defeat, from the looks of the first quarter, into a sought after Mid-East conference victory.

Veryl Borden turned in a brilliant guarding job as he held Paul Fredstrom to eight points, his lowest point output of the season. Borden also took individual scoring honors with 14 points. Jim Furrow aided Borden with 10 points.

Although Fredstrom was stopped he turned in an excellent floor game and set up numerous plays with his fine passing and ball handling. Dick Grell teamed with big Paul on many a play and led the Rocket scorers with 12 points. He was followed by Duane Rankin who had nine points.

SPORTS EDITOR, THE STAR

(Fran Nagle, Nebraska's All-Big Seven quarterback and star of the East-West and Senior Bowl games, is guest editor of The Firing Line today.)

BY FRAN NAGLE

W RITING A SPORTS COLUMN is a bit out of my line, but I'll give it a try.

I guess, if Don Strasheim and George Paynich, of our team and Bobby Decker of the freshmen can try it, maybe I can. They are members of The Star sports staff.

The East-West game was the biggest thrill of my life. It was great meeting such players as Kyle Rote of SMU, Bob Wilkinson of UCLA and Mike McCormick of Kansas.

I thought that McCormick, John Kadlec of Missouri and our own Charley Toogood were the outstanding linemen. They really did a job. Charley played almost the whole game on defense and was a power.

Lots of people have asked me how Kyle Rote rates against Bobby Reynolds of our team. Bobby has it over him on open-field running, but Rote has more power. I think that Kyle is essentially a fullback.

Rote is a very quiet sort, unassuming and a real credit to the game.

WE ON THE WEST only had about six running plays and five pass patterns. You could say we "improvised" some of our plays.

Jess Neely of Rice, I thought, was the coach who helped us most. He was the line coach. Also a great help was Howie Odell of Washington, who took care of the backfield. Howie will talk football with you 24 hours a day if you want to stay and talk to him.

On the second touchdown where I bootlegged the ball, then threw to Rolland Kirkby of Washington, the play was an optional pass-run pattern to the left. My job was to hide the ball long enough for a receiver to spring loose.

FOR THE EAST-WEST game, we received watches, jackets and a book called "Football's Finest Hour" which is a history of this annual Shrine game. All of our expenses were paid.

WE VISITED the Shrine Hospital for Crippled Children before the game. It was worth the trip to see how pleased they were to see us. This game is certainly for a great cause.

In the Senior Bowl game, neither squad had as much preparation as we had in the East-West. We actually had only three days in which to polish an offense. In the Senior Bowl, we had six pass plays and six running plays with variations.

Right now, I would like to see what I could do in pro football—if someone wants me in the pro draft. Otherwise, I would stay at Nebraska and work on my masters degree.

If the war doesn't get worse, I think Nebraska should have a team you'll be proud of next year. At least, I know they will have great spirit and one of the best coaching staffs in the country.

GRELL PACES ROCKETS—Dick Grell, 6-2 guard, led the Rockets to Mid-East win over Hastings, 49-37, by scoring 12 points.

Albert Grasson, freshman fencing coach at Yale, was born in Antwerp, Belgium.

Emergency Alters Ideas Retirement

Inflation Raises Hob With The 'Next Egg'

BY MERRYLE STANLEY

RUKEYSER

Economic Commentator

The national emergency, plus inflation, is changing fashions in retirement plans among creative older persons.

A new vogue in retirement is to shift occupations, or merely curtail hours and routine. Thus, an executive of a financial magazine, who retired after fifty years, is still doing consultant work. In quitting his regular job, he told his associates: "I've worked for others for fifty years; now I'm going to work for myself."

There has been much comment on the recent efforts of that dynamo of show business Billy Rose to taper off his operations. Facing impaired health, Rose discontinued his newspaper column, and allowed his name to be used in a new show at the Club.

Idea men and those with the habit of evaluating policies tend never to quit. They retain youth and vigor better when they keep their finger in the pie.

Attitude Will Change

The emotional climate respecting retirement may be expected to change during the current national emergency.

With a manpower shortage looming, it will be deemed socially useful and patriotic for older persons to put their talents and experience at the disposal of the national economy.

One strong motivating force making for automatic retirement at 65 is the desire to get older men out of the way of younger ones ambitious for promotion.

Behind such an attitude is more or less loose thinking to the effect that there is only a limited amount of work to be done in the world. Thus, as the late Arthur Brisbane, the great editor who worked to the end of his life, remarked, men quit their life work just when they are beginning to find out what it is all about.

Generalization gets nowhere, for men must be judged by their capabilities rather than by their chronological age. A productive captain or top sergeant of industry is worthy of his hire.

It is astigmatic to look at only one side of the ledger and observe how much he takes out in salary and bonus. Double entry bookkeeping should be done, and there should be clear understanding of how much he puts into the enterprise. The good executive, irrespective of age, contributes ideas and opportunities which make jobs for many others.

G. E. Example

In World War II, when Charles E. Wilson, the president of General Electric, and Philip D. Reed, the chairman, were engaged in war work, the company summoned out of retirement Gerard Swope and Owen D. Young to serve as president and chairman respectively.

Their contribution was dramatic evidence of the country's untapped human resources consisting of men still vital who are in retirement.

One possible compromise in the matter of automatic retirement would be to make retirement at a given age mandatory unless the board of directors would take affirmative action inviting the individual to remain.

Apart from patriotic and psychological motives, economic realities are going to cause many to work longer than they otherwise would. The size of a nest egg adequate for retirement must be re-examined in light of the current high cost of living.

If the retirement fund is invested in high grade bonds or its equivalent, it has been badly decimated in terms of buying power by inflation.

Thus, the inflation scale of taxes is making it increasingly difficult to build up a retirement fund out of net earned income after taxes.

Accordingly, it is becoming increasingly popular for the employer to pay part of emoluments even to men in management in the form of deferred benefits through a retirement fund. This is made doubly attractive by the tax setup and the rising corporate tax rate. For the corporation can deduct the cost of contribution to the retirement fund as an expense before computing net taxable income. On the other hand, the accruals to high income bracket employees are not taxable as income to the employee. No tax liability is incurred by the employee until after retirement.

Thus, tax-wise the corporate pension is more attractive to the salaried employee than getting all the compensation in the form of taxable salary and then relying on their self-discipline to apportion part of income to a nest egg.

The inflation since the Korean war has already rendered obsolete and inadequate the old age benefits under social security, which were raised last year sharply above the original levels set in 1935.
